MARRIED SHOWER FOR MISS EDNA SEIFERT

On Tuesday the Bar Group Sa[illegible] entertained for daughters of a shopping tour to Albany and Schenectady, stopping for supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wormer of Delmar avenue. Center [illegible] was used. Miss Edna Seifert was called upon to open the door and found Miss Dorothy Van Wormer at the piano and behind her was a group of many more. Miss Seifert was not surprised—not at first. The guests were members of the L. E. N. Service Circle of the Reformed church and the partners of the respective guests. Miss Seifert then was asked to be seated in a comfortable armchair. After Miss Seifert had regained her poise, she was handed a note which on reading told her she would find underneath a red pillow a treasure. She must run for the red pillow. On finding this first treasure she was found another note which told her where the second treasure would be found, and so on until she had discovered twenty-two treasures. Then she had the extreme pleasure of opening them, and had work to find the right words to express her thanks and appreciation of these fifty good wishes.

Miss Seifert is to be married next week to Albert Deane of Gloversville. Both Mr. Deane and Miss Seifert are graduates of the Practical Bible Training school of Binghamton, of the class of 1922. Mr. Deane has accepted a call to the Baptist church at Cranbury, N. J., as the pastor.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. T. E. Van Alen, Miss Gertrude Oliver, Mrs. Roy Arnold, Misses Grace and Eliza Haswell and Mrs. Samuel Haswell, Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. John Alen, Mrs. L. Walter, Mrs. Daniel Bennett, Mrs. I. Belmont, Miss Dorothy Barber, Mrs. Walter Bowling, Miss Dorothy Van Wormer, Mrs. Walter Sherman, Mrs. Warden, Mrs. Floyd Walter, Mrs. L. Bumpurey and Miss Mabel Van Alen.

Games were played. At a guessing game of concealed objects Mrs. Roy Arnold and Miss Gertrude Oliver won prizes. Ice cream and cake were served and everyone had a most delightful time.

SCHOOL NOTES

The commencement exercises of the Delmar school were held last Friday evening at the Fireman's hall. Members of the graduating class were Dorothy Bender, Louise Lott, Evelyn Mann, Eleanor Mann, Amy Mann, Katherine Rathbun, Elizabeth Wachenheim, Arthur Blanchard, Frank A. Joslin, Jr., Angelo Lagrande, Chester Lathrop, Delmar Wayne and Carl Wilber.

Special prizes for August work were awarded in the 8th grade as follows: Amy Mann received five prizes from the Progress club and Katherine Rathbun received five other prizes offered by Dr. VanWyck.

The Parent-Teacher Association awards three prizes in each grade, amounting to two dollars each in the seventh and eighth grades and one dollar and fifty cents in the remaining grades. The following children were the winners: For highest average standing, eighth grade, Emil Mann; 7th grade, Ruth Schoonmaker; 6th grade, Virginia Best; 5th grade, Edna Lott; 4th grade, Harriet Austin; 3rd grade, Evelyn Bennett; 2nd grade, Thomas Lynn and Jean Worden; 1st grade, Dexter Lynn.

For greatest improvement and effort—8th grade, Olga Lewis; 7th grade, Marion Humphrey; 6th grade, Arthur Dawson; 5th grade, Antoinette Gerlitz; 4th grade, Florence Bennett; 3rd grade, Irene Harper; 2nd grade, Donald Wilber; 1st grade, Louise Barber.

For highest standing in English—8th grade, Ruth Mann and Katherine Rathbun; 7th grade, Helen Schoonmaker; 6th grade, Jane McCormick; 5th grade, Dorothy Lynn; 4th grade, Jack Weaver; 3rd grade, Dorothea Bunning. No English prizes were given in the 1st and 2nd grades.

In the third grade Miss Serviss announces that the following pupils have 100 spelling lessons: One hundred per cent in the June examinations in spelling: Ruth P. Mann, Ella Wilber, Jennette Crook, Evelyn Bennett, Dorothea Bunning, Antoinette Gerlitz, Irene Harper, Harry Mann, Natalie Cornell and Gilbert Smith. Veronica Fressa read the most library books during the year and Jennette Crook had the most one hundred in spelling. Those attending the entire year without missing a day were Irene Harper and Charles Lott. Those missing not one day were Jennette Crook, Ruth Webber and Dorothy Young.

In June Mr. Mann and Serviss, of the Delmar School, left for Albany to lay plans for the next year. While there she will take several trips, visiting places in that part of our country, returning to Troy by motor about the first of July. It is indeed to be regretted that Miss Serviss will not return to Delmar in the fall. She has accepted a position in Syracuse and will teach there. Her Delmar friends unite in wishing her every possible success.
